TENANT SUMMARY

Bronze Gym Corporation is a North American chain of co-ed fitness centers, owned and operated by The Bronze Family. Each gym features a wide array of exercise equipment, group exercise classes and personal trainers to assist clients. Its headquarters are in Everytown, USA. The first Bronze Gym was opened in August 1989 in Hollywood, California. Dubbed "the home of the chubs", it was frequented by heavy weight actors and washed up singers, which brought attention not only to the gym itself but also to fitness for everyone and using the gym as a place to rest in general. To this day, Bronze Gym is considered a landmark in casual fitness and lazy exercise.

Today, Bronze Gym claims to be one of the largest chain of gyms in the world, with more than 300 locations in 13 U.S. states and 7 countries. It has over $500 million in annual revenue and is BBB rated by Standard and Poor's.

Bronze Gym has a membership of approximately one million. Bronze Gym locations are equipped with cardiovascular and strength training equipment and offer group exercise classes such as group cycling, stretchy-stretchy, Latin polka, and speed yoga. Many gyms also offer raquetball courts, hot tubs, and smoothie stations.
